EXAMINATION OF LATEST REGICIDE

Schinas May be Agent of Association of Would-be King-Killers.

RENDEZVOUS AT VOLO.

Rumor That Assassination of King Philip is Beginning of Plot to Slay All Balkan Rulers.

Athens, March 19.—Searching inquiry was set afoot today by the Greek government to determine if possible, whether Aeke Schinas was simply an unbalanced Anarchist, acting alone, when he shot down King George in a Salonika street yesterday, or whether he was the crafty agent of an organized anarchist band A rendezvous of Anarchists exists at Volo, and the ministry heard a report that the plot to kill King George was hatched there.

It was rumored that the assassination of the king was but the beginning of an Anarchist project to murder the rulers of all the Balkan states. Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria, King Nicholas of Montenegro , and King Peter, of Servia, also were said to be marked. No confirmation of this was forthcoming, though, and nothing developed in Salonika to indicate that the Turks had anything to do with the killing of the Greek king.

Schinas is of Greek birth and a native of Salonika. He was abroad for years, part of the time in a university and part of the time in America, and did not return to Salonika until King George and the Greek army captured the town last December.

The Council of Ministers today formally declared the former crown prince Constantine, Duke of Sparts, to be King Constantine I of Greece, succeeding his father, King George I, assassinated by a man of feeble-mind late yesterday as he walked through the streets of Salonika, which he entered as a conqueror three months ago.

While the council of minsters were in solemn session, preparing a proclamation which ascribed the assassination of King George to the act of a madman, the grief-stricken dowager queen Olga was hurrying to Salonika aboard a Russian warship, bemoaning that she had left the king alone in the conquered city a few days ago, and the new King Constantine was hurrying from Janina, the Turkish city in Epirus, which he entered as a conqueror recently.

The obsequies of King George will be imposing, He was related to every reigning family in Europe, and every nation will be represented at the funeral. Princes, dukes and grand-dukes will represent their soverigns and a brilliant assemblage will be here.

As soon as possible the body of King George will be brought here from Saloniks aboard a warship and it will lie in state until the day of the funeral.

Saloniks, March 19.—King Constantine I, of Greece, was received with all homage due a monarch by the people of Salonika when he arrived here today to direct the removal to Athens of the body of his father, King George who fell late yesterday at the hands of an assassin, Aleke Schinas.

The king of a day sobbed audibly as he embraced his younger brother, Prince Nicholas, and warmly wrung the hand of Lieut. Col. Francoudis, the querry who tried to save King George's life by capturing the assassin before he could fire a second shot.

King Constantine immediately assumed command of the Greek troops holding Salonika, and then gave orders concerning the preparation for removal to Athens of his father's body.

London, March 19.—Completely collapsed and confined to her bed at Mariborough House as the result of the slaying of her favorite brother, King George of Greece, Queen Mother Alexandra today said she would go to Athens to attend the funeral.

The death of the Greek King will have a decidedly dampening effect on the London social season. The court, it was announced, would immediately go into a month's mourning. Etiquette would demand that as a mark of respect, and in addition, the British and Greek Royal families are closely akin.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Train service has not yet been completely restored in Northern Nebraska as a result of last Thursday's blizzard, which was the worst in 20 years. Not a train has been moved west of Valentine, Neb., on the Black Hills route in five days. One drift near Kilgore is 18 feet deep. A baby was born on a stalled Northwestern train at Valentine, Neb. At Chadron a funeral party on the way from Hot Springs, S. D., to Chicago has been held since Thursday.

No special celebrations were held today in honor of the name day of the Pope, but the Pontiff has already received thousands of messages and addreses of felicitation and wishes for his complete recovery. The health of the Pope is still improving, but as a precautionary measure he will not be present at the Lenten sermon to be delivered in Consistorial Hall before the Sacred College. Pope Pius is greatly distressed at the condition of Cardinal Respighi, who is sinking fast, and has sent him the Apostolic benediction.

A certain morbidness among girls and women, "which rests so heavily on modern life," is due to lack of sun, air and sunshine, according to Professor Manjon, of Nice, France, the chief speaker at yesterday's session of the Physical Education Congress "Sun bathing, air bathing and frequent physcal exercise in loose garments are indispensable to good health and good temper in women," declared the lecturer. In a later part of his address he urged that the girl pupils in high schools ought to be taught the elements of knowledge fitting them for motherhood.

A Cincinnati dispatch to the New York American says: "Investigation of deaths in this city, said to have been caused by tricresol, a preservative ingredient in the Flexner serum, for spinal meningitis, was begun today by a committee of the Academy of Medicine. Dr. S. P. Kramer, addressing the Academy last night, attributed deaths of children at the Cincinnati Hospital to that cause. Out of the fifteen cases treated fourteen have died. Dr. Kramer says at least five of these fatalities are positively attributable to the serum"

Deaf to the eloquent arguments of the French premier, Aristide Briand, embodied in what is pronounced the finest speech of his career, the senate last night overthrew the government on the question of proportional representation. The chamber of deputies had already passed this measure by a vote of 339 to 217, and practically the whole country had been clamoring for the political rearrangement provided by this bill.

Eighty ships, mainly small craft, were sunwk at Hamburg, Germany yesterday in a southwesterly hurricane. Twelve deaths have already been reported and it is thought that the death list may reach fifty persons.

Although it is denied in Rome that Greece has occupied Avalona, a seaport of Albania, on the Adriatic, the report that she had done so caused great excitement, as Italy would consider the occupation of any part of the southern Albanian territory by the Greeks as a cause for war.

Following up the London Post's attack on William Jennings Bryan, the American Secretary of State, for his speech at the St. Patrick's Day banquet at Washington, on Saturday evening, the Standard says: "If Mr. Bryan really expressed the views of the cabinet and the President, the relations between Great Britain and the United States may enter upon a phase which would be regarded with extreme regret by a majority of the sensible moderate persons of both countries." The Standard describes Secretary Bryan's speech as "a fine example of virulent and inflated nonsense, which the inferior kind of demagogue talks when he wants to catch Irish votes."

Stephen Pantes, 8 years old, of Passaic, N.J., yesterday shot and killed his sister Margaret, 4 years old, while portraying a scene they had witnessed in a moving picture theatre on Saturday. The mother of the children is dangerously ill in the General Hospital, and has not been told of the shooting.

MISSING BOY IS AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

End of Two Days' Search by Soldiers, Boy Scouts and Others.

HE HAS 'SPRING FEVER'

Was Watching Baseball Team at Practice When Identified as Youth Which Was Being Sought.

Washington, Mar.19—After two days' search by 100 U. S. Cavalry, 300 Boy Scouts and several hundred men, Granville Dickey, the 10-year old boy who mysteriously disappeared here last Monday, was found today at Charlottesville, Va., watching the Washington baseball team at practice. Lure of baseball "spring fever" caused the boy-hunt, which had aroused all Washington. How the boy reached Charlottesville is unknown.

A telegram received from Charlottesville, Va., by Raymond B. Dickey, father of the boy, this morning, and signed by "G. H. Brown," stated "Granville is here safe and sound. No need to worry."

Who Brown is, the Dickey family does not know. Mr. Dickey wired the university station, from where the message was filed, for information concerning the indentity of Brown. It was stated the man came into the telegraph office this morning, accompanied by the boy and filed the message.

G. H. Brown is a senior engineer at the University of Virginia and officials at the University say that if he sent a telegram saying the missing boy is with him they would believe it.

LEAVING CAPITAL.

Find Washington an Expensive Place While Waiting for Plum Tree to Shake.

Washington, March 19.—Every train leaving Washington, going in a southernly direction, carries on its lists of passengers many disgruntled and much disappointed office_seekers. Some of these came to Washington just after Christmas, when Congress assembled; others came to the inauguration, and still others have arrived since. They are going home because they have become thoroughly convinced that the national capital is a very expensive place in which to live while waiting for the plum tree to shake.

The home-goers are not from any one State, or from any one section of the country, for that matter, although it is true that for obvious reasons more of them are from the south than elsewhere.

But here is something else the job-hunters have recently discovered. They have become convinced that it will do them no good to remain in Washington. Once having placed their interests in the hands of their respective Congressmen, there is little else that can now be done. Secretary Bryan will not return to his office for some time from his western trip, and several of the other Cabinet members expect to be away more or less during the early spring months. Added to this is the friendly advice handed out to the weary waiters by the congressmen that longer tarrying here would not only be of no avail, but in many cases probably useless.

There is much dissatisfaction among some of those who have been disappointed, but this was to be expected. It was never contemplated by those well informed that the new administration would summarily turn out former employes and officeholders to make room for others, but this fact apparently does not suit many of those now turning their faces homeward. Many of them will go back to their people with alluring stories of what they did in the national capital while waiting for something to "turn up," glad, no doubt, that after all they are at home again. Many appointments are going to be made, but now just now. In time the plum tree will shake for keeps, but that will come with the extra session of Congress.

MONCURE FOR COLLECTOR.

Senator From Stafford County Will Probably be Appointed.

According to gossip among Virginians in Washington the collectorship of the Internal Revenue of the Eastern District will in all probability go to Senator R. C. L. Moncure, of Stafford county, a brother of Robinson Moncure, of this city. Mr. Moncure is the only applicant for the position and his claims are being urged by prominent men from all parts of Virginia.

According to a press dispatch from Washington the official heads of M. K. Lowry and B. F. Bailey, collectors of the Internal Revenue for the eastern and western districts of Virginia respectively, are in danger.

Late last evening Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo told several senators that while the administration did not intend to vacate the office filled by republicans for definite terms, this policy may not be invoked in the cases of those offices filled by republicans appointed at the pleasure of the President.

Collectors of the internal revenue are officials whose offices come within the term of "at the pleasure of the president." The collectors are generally regarded as being named for an indefinite period and are subject to removal at any time that the president may ask for their resignations. Charges do not have to be preferred against them or other reasons given for the action by the president. The office is filled, under the law, "at the pleasure of the president."

No definite action along this line will be taken until the United States commissioner of the internal revenue is named. This man will suceeed Royal E. Cabell, of Richmond. As soon as the Democratic commissioner takes charge of Mr. Cabell's desk, Secretary McAdoo will then discuss with him the policy of the internal revenue division and the question of vacating the offices of the collectors.

That such a policy is being contemplated by the treasury department is not generally known in the revenue districts. It is only in a few states that many applicants for these plums are coming forward. For Mr. Lowry's job there is only one known applicant so far as Washington can learn. He is R. C. L. Moncure, of King George county, and is backed by Congressman C. C. Carlin, of the Alexandria district.

The western district of Virginia, however, is an exception. There are no less than a dozen applicants for Mr. Bailey's job. These jobs pay $4,500 a year.

"BIG STICK" SENT WILSON.

But President Will Likely Return Shilalah to Donor.

Among the presents received at the executive offices at the White House yesterday was a "big stick," which was sent by W. Walpole Bell, of New York. The stick was a regular Irish shilalah of black thorn.

It is a murderous looking instrument, about 20 inches long, with a knot on the end of it as large as a man's fist. It was highly polished and ornamented with a bow of bright green ribbon.

It wil probably go back to the sender with a note from the President anouncing that he does not expect to have any use for a stick of that character.

A Washington boy who signed himself "Anxiously yours," wrote to the President asking if he would not accept a pet alligator, which is now four feet long, and which the youthful admirer of the President is anxious to have among the White House ornaments. The President declined with thanks.

Ernest H. Taft, of Fulton, N. Y., wrote to the President that he had a son born to him on inauguration day and that he had named the boy Howard Wilson Taft as a compliment to both the president and the preceding administration. President Wilson sent Mr. Taft a note expressing his appreciation.

OFFICIALS WILL NOT MAKE CONCESSIONS

Hold Conference With Representatives of Five Thousand Switchmen.

MEN VOTE TO STRIKE.

Eighteen Demands to be Presented to Railroads—To Quit Work if They Are Not Granted.

Chicago, March 19.—Railroad officials announced today before going into a conference with representatives of five thousand switchmen from yards in the vicinity of Chicago, that under no circumstances will they make any concessions.

The switchmen on Monday concluded a strike vote, which was practically unanimous in favor of a strike, unless the railroads at today's conference yielded to the men's demands or accord arbitration.

Vice President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen who heads the committee representing the switchmen, was equally determined. Whitney had eighteen demands of the switchmen to present to the railroad managers committee and he said that failure on the part of the roads either to meet those demands or consent to arbitration, will result in an immediate strike.

The switchmen assert that if there is a walkout freight through Chicago to the east and northwest will be tied-up. Nineteen roads entering Chicago are affected.

A semi-monthly pay-day and pay and a half for overtime are the two principals demands of the switchmen. The others have to do with working conditions in the yards.

SEVEN LAST WORDS OF CHRIST.

Many Present at the Cantata at St. Paul's Church Last Night.

The Seven Last Words of Christ, as rendered by St. Paul's choir last night proved most pleasing. The cantata itself is musically excellent and the good work of the soloists supprted by the well trained chorus showed its every charm.

The soprano, Mrs. De Dier, showed to unusual advantage. Her voice had the sympathy, pathos and dramatic intensity so necessary in the interpretation of her role. These qualities showed even more clearly, mesos voce than with the full voice.

Mr. Waller, always liked by Alexandria audiences, did most excellent work in his long roll, the dignity of his style making his solos most impressive.

Mr. Young did the best work he has ever done in Alexandria. He is rapidly developing into one of the best lyric tenors that Alexandria has heard in recent years.

Both Miss Kast on the violin and Mr. Fowler at the organ, played well and received many favorable comments on the finish and sustained excellence of their playing.

The chorus work which is always one of the features of the oratorios at St. Paul's Church, was up to its high standard last night and showed careful intepretation of the difficult music.

HEALTH LAW IS ENFORCED.

Fine of Five Dollars Imposed For Slaughtering Calves in City Limits

Among the cases before the Police Court this morning was that of a representative of the firm of the Schuler Beef Company, charged with violating the city laws which forbid the slaughtering of cattle within the corporate limits.

Fred Schuler appeared to answer the charge. He was represented by Charles Bendheim. The citation had been issued at the instance of Deputy Health Officer Garvey, who had made an examination of the premises of the company and had ascertained that the law had been violated on more than one occasion.

Copies of the voluminous health law were brought into court, several sections read, and some time consumed in stating the charges and the presentation of the defense. The defendant acknowledged that calves had been slaughtered upon the premises, but plead in extenuation that the health authorities had not, as the new law directed, designated a general slaughter house.

It was, however, shown that Alexandria butchers had been using a slaughter house in Alexandria county.

Justice Caton decided the case from the code of 1874, which imposes a fine of five dollars for such offenses. This assessment was accordingly made.

SENT ON TO GRAND JURY.

Young Colored Woman, in a Fit of Anger, Uses Carbolic Acid on Husband

Considerable excitement was caused on King street, near Washington, early last night by screams of a woman, and the sudden accumulation of a crowd in front af a drug store. Officer Roberts was in the vicinity and he made an immediate investigation and ascertained that Beatrice Grady, aged 17, had thrown carbolic acid on the face and head of her husband, Andrew Grady, 18 years old. Officer Roberts took the assailant in charge, and the injured man received attention in the drug store. Later De De-Laney rendered assistance.

The young wife was brought before the Police Court this morning to answer the charge brought against her. The object of her wrath also appeared with his face and head annointed profusely with vaseline. His right eye was bandaged.

After Officer Roberts had made his statement, the husband charged his wife with threatening him and stated that she had called him from the store in which he was working and dashed the acid in his face. There had previously been domestic infelicity between the couple and Grady announced that he would not live with his wife any longer.

The wife in her defense alleged that she did not throw the acid at him, but attempted to cast it into the street. The fluid, she insisted, came in contact with his face in an accidental manner.

Justice Caton held her for the grand jury. The woman is from Washington.

The attack on Grady caused considerable curiosity for a time, or until the facts in the case were ascertained. At was at first supposed the enraged wife was a white woman, and the news of the assault quickly spread over the city. Many speculations were indulged in and the bumps of the curious were at abnormal stages. When it was learned that the incident was the outcome of trouble between a colored man and his wife, curiosity rapidly subsided.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

HOUSE BLOWN DOWN.

Rescue of Girl From Wrecked Dwelling.

Petersburg, Va., March 19.—The home, two barns and stable on the farm of J. W. Phillips, in Dinwiddie county, were blown down by the high wind of Saturday afternoon. Mr. Phillips lives on the main road from Petersburg to the county courthouse. While his loss is heavy, it is considered fortunate that no one was hurt in the wreck.

A daughter of Mr. Phillips happened to be in the cellar of the dwelling at the time. She was rescued unhurt from under the debris.

The provender in the barns was scattered far and wide by the wind. A horse and buggy belonging to a neighbor was standing in the stable shed. The buggy was crushed and the horse knocked down, but was not injured.

PETITION FOR ALLEN.

Roanoke Citizens Active in Behalf of Young Mountaineer.

Roanoke, Va., March 19.—Petitions are being circulated here for funds to be used in taking the case of Claude Allen to the Supreme Court of the United States and to prosecute Clerk Dexter Goad for perjury.

One man who is carrying a petition is Ballard Huddleston, a well-known contract painter, and he has volunteered to devote the remainder of this week to raising funds by subscription. He started his list with a personal subscription of $25.

Ellis Wright, a prominent real estate men and large apple grower, is also circulating a petition, and one has been placed with a leading business house.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Brakeman Meets Death Early Yesterday.

Richmond, March 19.—P. C. Cook, twenty-six years old, of Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway, was run down yesterday morning about 4:10 o'clock in the yards of the railway and instantly killed.

His horribly mangled body was found a few minutes afterwards by the train crew.

It is not known just how the man happened to be caught under the wheels of the train.

It is reported that the man caught his foot in the track switch in some manner and that the train crew did not observe him on the track.

Declines to Issue Papers.

Richmond, March 19.—Governor Mann has declined to issue requisition papers for R. S. McGuire, who is under arrest at New York, at the request of Police Captain Leonard Knapp, of Norfolk. The offense on which Captain Knapp based his application for requisiton involved only $3.

According to the police captain, McGuire committed several forgeries in Norfolk recently. Governor Mann instructed him to prepare a list showing the names of the persons defrauded and the amount obtained. If the complaints are sufficiently numerous the governor may agree to sign requisition papers.

Captain Lamb wired his chief to have requisition papers prepared and to forward him here the information requested by the governor.

Attacked by Watch Dog.

Richmond, March 19.—T. E. Bridgeforth, a farmer sixty years old, of Wytheville, Va., arrived at the State Department of Health yesterday to take the Pasteur treatment.

Mr. Bridgeforth was bitten on the hand last week by one of his watch dogs, an old canine. It appears that he had had the dog tied in the yard for several days, and when the canine was released temporarily it refused to be retied.

And then in his efforts to get the collar back on the dog's neck it bit him.

Though it has not been definitely determined whether the animal was mad, Mr. Bridgeforth, at the advice of the family physician, decided to take the treatment here anyway, as a matter of precaution.

COPYING RECORDS FOR APPEAL.

Allen Case May go to Federal Court This Week.

Richmond, March 19.—Clerk H. Stewart Jones, of the Supreme Court of Appeals, had a force at work until a very late hour last night copying such parts of the record in the Claude Swanson Allen case as are needed by the attorneys to make up the history of the trial in connection with the appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States on a constitutional point. Mr. Jones announced that he will deliver the transcript, which will make about 200 pages, to Attorney D. C. O'Flaherty today.

A conference will be held this morning between Mr. O'Flaherty, Senator L. O. Wendenburg and R. H. Willis, the latter of Roanoke, who was one of Wytheville and who is due in the city early today. It is supposed the preparation of the petition to the Federal court will be discussed at this time. With the record delivered today, the materal is ready for the contemplated action and it is supposed the attorneys will proceed to Washington tomorrow, or Friday at the latest. Chief Justice White, to whom the appeal must be presented, has the reputation of rendering prompt decisions, and will be heard from, it is expected, within an hour or two.

Inasmuch as no further respite will be granted either of the condemned men, the only chance for Claude Allen is to present his appeal within ample time to secure a stay of execution from the Federal court, if that tribunal will consent to grant one.

Floyd Allen, whose execution next week is a practical certainty, spent a quiet day yesterday. He spends much time brooding in his cell, although he talks a good deal, sometimes with animation, to his son, Claude, who is located opposite him. The death watch is in the corridor between them.

The younger brother continues to be the more composed and cheerful of the two. He seems to censure no one, and utters no word of bitterness regarding anybody. Claude believes the Governor acted honestly and conscientiously. He has not yet begun to write the final letter he has contemplated, and is doubtful as to whether or not it is best to do so.

Friends continue to send flowers to the death cells, and they are kept in water on a table in the wide corridor that divides the two rows of condemned prisoners.

COLORED DEMOCRATS.

True Reformers Plan Great Meeting in Richmond.

Richmond, March 19.—The Grand Fountain United Order of True Reformers, has put into definite shape the arrangements for the great mass-meeting to be held in the city auditorium on the evening of April 14, when Bishop Alexander Walters, A. M., D. D., of New York, who led the work of organization among the colored voters of the country in support of Woodrow Wilson at the last election and who also gave support to Mr. Wilson for governor of New Jersey, will deliver an address to the citizens of Richmond on the achievements of the present administration of the Grand Fountain, United Order of True Reformers, on the progress of the race in church and state, and in the educational and industrial field, and of the friendly ties that should exist between the races in promoting the prosperity of the country and the happiness of all.

DRIVE MEN INTO MINE.

Man Hired For Big Building is Bayonetted Into Paying Expenses.

Lynchburg, Va., March 19.—"May I get a night's lodging here?" inquired a young man dressed in blue overalls, with about a week's beard upon his face, of Officer Ware at the police station Monday night at 12:30 o'clock. He stated that his name was James Gettigan, of New York city, and that he was trying to work his way back to the metropolis from Paint Creek, W. Va., where he was transported by Goistein's Agency, of New York, to work as a laborer on a large building in course of construction at Paint Creek.

When asked why he didn't stay in West Virginia he stated that he didn't want his head knocked off, and upon further questioning he said that when he reached Paint Creek and asked where the large building was, one of the natives pointed to a high hill and said: "I guess that's it." Gettigan declared that he was not going to work in the mine, when he discovered that he had been tricked into going to West Virginia, but since he was consigned to work out the amount of the cost of transportation, the management ordered the guards, who have been armed during the strike, to bayonet him, among about twenty others in the same predicament, into the mines. They were forced into them, and he stated they were kept in there four days without anything to eat in an effort to force them to go to work. Finally they feigned that they would work, and the guards allowed them freedom, and as soon as they caught sight of daylight they bolted, some going West and some coming East.

He stated that he was a stranger in the city, and fearing that he would be picked up by an officer he had rather spend the night in the cage at the police station. He was granted this privilege.

Elopers Wed.

Rockville, Md., March 19.—Thomas Reuben White and Miss Elsie Ruth Mason, of Charlottesville, Va., eloped to Rockville yesterday morning, and were married by the Rev. Oscar W. Henderson, pastor of the Bapitst Church, at the home of the minister. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. E. H. Mason, of Merry Hill, Charlottesville.

Cider Leads to Shooting.

Charlottesville, Va., March 19.—Considerable excitement was caused early Saturday evening by the accidental shooting of J. J. Wingfield by Alfred W. Barlow.

The affair occured at the cider establishment on East Market street, of which Mr. R. Johnson is manager. Mr. Wingfield, it is understood, declined to take a second drink of cider with Mr. Barlow, whereupon the latter drew from his pocket a pistol which he thought was empty. There was one bullet in the chamber, however, and it entered just below Mr. Wingfield's left eye and came out at the back of his neck. Dr. J. F. Williams was at once called in, and later Mr. Wingfield was taken to the University Hospital. The wound is not regarded as a dangerous one, and unless complications set in, his recovery should be speedy. Mr. Barlow was bailed in the sum of $1,500, with A. Russow as surety.

STATE TAX ON CORPORATIONS.

The announcement in yesterday's Gazette of the purpose of State Auditor Moore to enforce the law imposing a tax upon capital represented by corporations chartered under the laws of Virginia has caused some comment. Commissioner of Revenue Callahan has been directed by the State Auditor to list the capital of such concerns for taxation.

It is pointed out that the State will receive about $35,000 by this procedure in the way of increased receipts, and should the city of Alexandria avail itself of benefits that it is supposed would accrue its revenue would be increased to $175,000.

There is no doubt that the parties interested would appeal the case an the validity of such a law might not stand before an appellate court from the fact that the state would be going outside its bounds for the purpose of taxing property and capital.

While it is allowed that the state would receive additional revenue from the taxation,the commonwealth is likely to lose over a quarter of a million dollars which is received yearly from foreign corporations which obtain charters in Virginia.

Of course,now that attempts are to be made to tax their capital,such concerns will give our state a wide berth in the future.

ASSASSINATION OF THE KING OF GREECE.

Another figure was added to the chamber of horrors yesterday when King George of Greece was shot through the heart at Salonika by one of his own subjects. The murderer, who is of the low Hellenistic type, gave his name as Aleko Schinas. Unfortunately, like Erostratus of old, his name will disgrace the pages of history and take its place with Guiteau, Czolgost and others who have marred the image of their Creator.

About fifty assassinations and attempts at this crime have occurred during the past century, or one every other year.

The scene of this latest regicide was Salonika,the Thessolnoika of the New Testament, and one of the cradles of Christianity, where the Apostle Paul preached and where he sent two epistles.

Churches in the United States are at present supporting missionaries in this ancient city, where the faith was proclaimed over eighteen hundred years ago.

The untimely death of King George, on the fiftieth anniversary of his reign, is regarded with alarm by European diplomats who had nurtured hopes that after the present war spirt of the Balkans shall have burned out, that King George would have materialy aided in bringing about tranquil conditions. The results of his death are at present problematical, and there is manifest anxiety among those who are striving to part the dogs of war.

The King was returning from a walk to the White Tower when the assassin was dodging his tracks. He was in a happy and contented mood, and as he strolled along talked of the war, of the success of the Greek arms, of the capture of Janina and Salonika, and of this fitting climax of his 50 years' reign. At that moment a shot rang out from behind. Colonel Francoudis, the king's aid, sprang round and seized the hand of the assassin, which was already poised for a second shot. Covering his royal master with his body, he seized the assassin by the throat and held him fast until passing soldiers ran to his assistance.

But the first shot had found its lodgment. King George had already sank to the earth. He was lifted into a carriage, and with his head resting on his arm, continued to breathe for a short time. But before the hospital was reached life was extinct.

The bullet, which was fired at a distance of two paces, entered the back below the shoulder blade. Its point of exit was below the stomach. There was a severe hemorrhage. The jeweled cross which the King always wore was covered with blood.

The assassin of the king is an evil-looking fellow, about 40 years of age. On being arrested he refused to explain his motive for the crime, and in reply to an officer, who asked him whether he had no pity for his county, announced that he was against governments.

Crown Prince Constantine, who succeeds King George, is at present at Janina.

Fears Mob Rule.

The methods of the British government in dealing with militant suffragettes were discussed in heated fashion in the House of Commons yesterday. One of the Unionist members, Harold Smith, declared that the passive submission of the authorities to hunger strike and subterfuges had brought ridicule on the administration of the law.

"The country faces mob rule," he urged, "and emergency measures are necessary. The Home Secretary has reduced the administration of the law to a farce. The natural consequence is that the mob is taking the law into its own hands.

"It is a disgrace to a civilized country that women are allowed openly to boast that they are criminally conspiring to break the law and that nothing can deprive them of their liberty. The Home Secretary ought to proclaim unlawful the meetings of the militant suffragettes, but his only attempt to remedy the situation thus far has been a few puerile and futile efforts at forcible feeding, barbaric in their cruelty."

Mr. Smith turned upon the Home Secretary and dramatically demanded that he resign from the cabinet.

"You are a hopeless failure, sir!" he shouted. "This present serious state of affairs can be ended only by strong men."

Indians on Roof.

New York, March 19.—As guests of Louis Hill, son of James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railroad, a band of Indians from the Blackfoot reservation in the Rockies, near Glacier, National Park, is snugly encamped today on the roof of one of New York's newest and tallest hotels. The Indians, who had never been in a large city, were brought here to exhibit at the Travel Show. Rooms had been engaged for them but they balked at the idea of sleeping in doors.

"My people want air," Chief Three Bears explained. "Hot room no good, want plenty out doors."

The agile press agent of the hotel quickly arranged things to suit his savage guets. A teepee camp was built on the hotel roof in typical Indian Village formation and the spectacle is attracting wide attention. The Indians like the fresh air they get on top of the buildings, but not one of them can be induced to go near enough to the stone coping around the roof to get a peek at the city spread beneath them.

Cranford, N. J.—The faithfulness of a blind horse which remained by its master helped the authorities to find the body of John McNamara who had died of heart failure in a lonely road.

THE DAY WHEN MY SHIP COMES IN.

Oh, I think of that day in some far-distant year,
The day when my ship comes in,
And its vision so often has brought me good cheer,
The day when my ship comes in.
When, at last, I possess all my castles in Spain,
The reward for my labor, my sorrow, my pain,
How trifling will seem all pass struggle and strain,
But my dreams of the future cannot be the same,
The day when my ship comes in.

Then my heart will be light and my wants will be few,
The day when my ship comes in,
And I'll glory in having my wishes come true,
The day when my ship comes in.
For 'twill bring to me honor and fortune and fame,
'Twill bring to me happiness, love and good name,
But my dream of the future cannot be be the same
The day when my ship comes in.

If some of our folks are still away, is R. D. Brumback?

If some of these candidates say they are going to get that postmastership,what does Col.G. Wm. Ramsay?

If one of the lady property-hollers at Rosemont refused to abide by the village regulations, could Frank Slaymaker?

The suffragettes have decided to make a personal appeal to President Wilson. It's no use to issue executive orders denying audiences to favor-seekers, if those girls have made up their minds to get after him.

He'll write the news or practice law
Or act as Clerk of Court,
He's what a fellow might call
An all 'round general sport.

And if you don't agree with him
He won't get mad or huffy,
(We admit that line is foolish, but
We had to rhyme with Duffy.)

Miner's Troubles.

Charleston, W. Va., March 19— Gov H. B. Hatfield announced today that he will spend much of his time in the martial law district until the miners' troubles are peaceably settled. His visit of yesterday to Cabin Creek district was to be followed today by a trip into Paint Creek Valley. The Governor considers the strike situation serious and other state matters will receive little attention until the district is again under civil law.

The Governor announced that he expects to pass upon and make public the findings of the military court in the cases of "Mother Jones" and the 49 miners tried for conspiracy to murder, within the next two days.

New York—Too proud to accept charity, Charles Marcotta, Italian artist, starved to death in his studio which was filled with pictures he had been unable to sell.

Who Foots the Bill

It costs money to sell goods. There are automatic guns and banjos, but no article has been made automatic enough to sell itself.

The most costly way of selling goods is to store them and wait for purchasers to come.The least expensive way is to tell the public about them by advertising.

Who pays for advertising? Nobody. Without advertising the salesman can't sell $100 worth of goods. With it he sells $1,000 worth.

The cost of selling is less. The price is lower. Advertising this rocker at $9.00 saves you money because we have fifteen such rockers and this ad will sell them all. Selling fifteen rockers at a little profit makes us more money than making big profit on one.

A bargain is here for you. Will you take it?

Alienists yesterday examined the first "crank" of the Wilson administration. The man gave his name as Dr. Charles A. Schwab, of Dallas, Texas. He is being detained in the Washington asylum, in which institution he was placed Tuesday when arrested by Secret Service men on his arrival in Washington. The man said he was on his way to the White house to be sworn in as President and he had in his possession a number of written messages purporting to have been sent to him by Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court. It is believed that he wrote them himself.

A New Kind of Roofing

Asphalt Gravel That Will Last Ten Years—Can be Used Anywhere.

Cumberland, Md. — Among the many improvements at the new Y. M. C. building is the asphalt gravel roof (Security brand) that was put on under direction of Mr. Adam May.

A fairy tale is told about this roofing by Mr. A. M. Strickland, of Elkton, Md. About fifteen years ago he built the Elkton Foundry and covered the roof with Security Asphalt Gravel roofing and four years afterward the building and contents were consumed by fire. Nothing was left but the walls and roofing.

Being of an economical turn of mind he ordered the carpenters to cut down the roofing in strips, losing only the laps.

He used these strips of roofing on the new foundry building and it is in good condition today after ten years of active service.

It would be difficult to believe such a tale, because tin, iron and slate or any other composition roofing would have gone to smash or curled up and blown away in such a conflagration.

There is reason to believe that this true, because it stood the test in a similar fire in the B. & O. hay shed at Mt. Clare Station, Baltimore, some years ago.

This roofing can be purchased of COMMITS SUICIDE.

Son Kills Himself Because of Father's Ill Health.

Winchester, Va., March 19.—James S. Golliday, on account of whose serious illness, his son, Lloyd Golliday committed suicide on last Saturday ided Monday night, Mr. Golliday was 74 years old, and was a prominent farmer. His son had brooded over his father's illness and shot himself in the head with a shot gun.

Before taking his life he had driven into Winchester and ordered two floral designs from a florist, stating that he wanted them for two funerals and that they would be sent for later. One of the designs was used for his own funeral and the other will be laid on his father's casket. The elder Golliday served in Company K, 12th Virginia Cavalry, in the Confederate army. He leaves nine children.

Roanoke After Militia.

Roanoke, Va., March 19.—Officers of the State Militia in Roanoke have inaugurated a movement to bring here this summer the annual officers' camp of instruction for Virginia militia officers. It is pointed out that Mountain Park will provide an ideal field for maneuvers and the chamber of commerce already has invited the officers to come here, through Adjutant General W. W. Sale.

Captain Harry Davant ond other officers are busy working for details of what Roanoke has to offer in the way of advantages for the meeting and it a short time will submit their plan to Adjutant-General Sale and urge selection of the Magic City for the camp site.

The annual instruction period extends over about ten days, when regular army officers are sent out from Washington to give milltiamen the advantage of the constant training given the regulars at West Point and army posts. Captain Davant has been working on the matter several months and was assured by the adjutant general several weeks ago that Roanoke would get an excellent chance to secure the encampment.

Pronounced Sane.

Roanoke, Va., March 19.—A case which has attracted much attention recently in the courts of Roanoke terminated when Judge Edward W Robertson, in a written opinion held that Gray T. Lloyd is sane and is capable of handling his own business affairs.

Mr. Lloyd is a native of Lynchburg and about two years ago came to Roanoke. Sometime ago he purchased a farm in Ballyhack and has been making his home there.

In his youth he was committed to an asylum for the insane, and it is said was an inmate of the institution when his father died leaving him a large estate. The property was committed to N. C. Manson, Jr., of Lynchburg, in trust for him, as well as other heirs, and the will provided that the interest derived from the estate is all that the various heirs can receive. Later his mother died, the terms of her will being similar to that of her husband.

It is estimated that Gray Lloyd's share of the two estate will aggregate about $100,000.

Mother Commits Suicide.

Chicago, March 19.—Verie Pustalla, a young Italian woman chose to die rather than desert her children and kneeling in the center of a furnace early today, was burned to death.

When the ruins were searched the bodies of the three victims were discovered. The mother still was in a kneeling position. Evidently praying. The two little children, Jane, aged 5, and May, aged 3, died at their mother's skirt.

Frank Pustalla, the husband, who escaped through the flames and saved the lives of two children of his brother-in-law, was fatally burned. He has not been told that while he was rescuing two other tots his own babies died in the flames.

Baltimore—Dr. Robert H. Wood, of Johns Hopkins University has invented a camera which takes photos covering 180 degrees at one exposure. It is called the "fish eye" camera.

MRS. McGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts In Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.
